Grant and Colfax Serenaded.

Gen. Grant was serenaded last night at Washington. After the band had played "Hail to the Chief," calls were made for Gen. Grant, when he appeared at the door of his residence, and was greeted with prolonged cheers. Representative Boutwell of Massachusetts, who was standing at his side, addressed him in terms expressive of gratification at his unanimous nomination by the Chicago Convention. Gen. Grant said:

GENTLEMEN—Being entirely unaccustomed to public speaking, and without the desire to cultivate that power, (laughter) it is impossible for me to find appropriate language to thank you for this demonstration. All that I can say is, that to whatever position I may be called by your will, I shall endeavor to discharge its duties with fidelity and honesty of purpose. Of my rectitude in the performance of public duties you will have to judge for yourselves by my record before you.

Three cheers were then given for Gen. Grant. Hundreds of the crowd then entered the house, and congratulated the General.

The procession then moved to the residence of Speaker Colfax. Calls having been made for him, he appeared at the door of his residence, in company with Representative Pike, of Maine, who in a few remarks introduced Mr. Colfax. The latter said:

MY FRIENDS—I thank you with all the emotions of a grateful heart for this flattering manifestation of your confidence and regard. I congratulate you on the auspicious opening of the eventful campaign on which we are entering. In the Chicago Convention, representing the entire continental area of the republic, every State, every Territory, every district, and every delegate from ocean to ocean, declared that their first and only choice for President was Ulysses S. Grant. (Great applause.) Brave and yet unassuming, retiring and yet when necessary, firm as the eternal hills, (applause)—with every thought, and hope, and aspiration for his country—with modesty only equalled by his merits—it is not extravagant for me to say that he is today the man of all others in the land, first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen. (Great applause.) This name is the very synonym of victory, and he will lead the Union hosts to triumph at the polls, as he led the Union armies to triumph in the field. But greater even than the conqueror of Vicksburg, and the destroyer of the rebellion, is the glorious inspiration of our noble principles, animated by the sublime truths of the Declaration of Independence. Our banner bears an inscription more magnetic than the names of its standard bearers, which the whole world can see as it floats to the breeze—liberty and loyalty, justice and public safety. Defying all prejudices, we are for uplifting the lowly and protecting the oppressed. (Applause.) History records, to the immortal honor of our organization, that it saved the nation and emancipated a race. We struck the fetters from the limbs of the slave, and lifted millions into the glorious sunlight of Liberty. We placed the emancipated slave on his feet as a man, and put into his right hand the ballot to protect his manhood and his rights. We staked our political existence on the reconstruction of the revolted States, on the sure and eternal cornerstone of loyalty, and we shall triumph. I know there is no holiday contest before us, but with energy and zeal, with principles that humanity will approve, and that, I believe, God will bless, we shall go through the contest conquering and to conquer; and on the fourth day of March next, the people's champion will be borne by the people's votes to yonder White House, that I regret to say is now dishonored by its unworthy occupant. Then, with peace and confidence, we may expect our beloved country to enter upon a career of prosperity which shall eclipse the most brilliant annals of our past. I bid you God speed in this work, and now, good night.

Great applause followed the conclusion of Mr. Colfax's speech, and the band played an appropriate air.

Speech of Gen. John M. Palmer.

A delegate from Kentucky called for Gen. Palmer, the tried and true soldier and statesman of Illinois, to address the Convention. The Chair put the question, and the Convention unanimously voted to hear the gallant General. Coming to the platform, he was received with uproarious applause.

General Palmer said:

Mr. President—Gentlemen of the Convention—I must confess that I had attended this Convention to witness, to observe, earnest action, without any disposition on my part to contribute to the volume of words that usually attend assemblages like this. As you will see, I have outlived in a great measure the estimate that young men place upon mere speech. (Continued applause.)

Years ago, when the great questions before the country were matters of argument and deliberation, I endeavored, as best I could, to contribute my share to their peaceful solution. In 1861 it was resolved by a portion of the people of this country that the problems of the hour were to be settled in a more stern and decisive manner. In my way, and to the extent of the power I possessed, I contributed to their settlement in that way. (Cheers.) It seemed to me at the close of the war—and it seems to me now—that the matter in dispute between the different sections of the country were settled upon the battle field, and all that I have desired since that time is that the logic of the battle field should be recognized and the decisions then made should be carried into effect. (Applause.)

Years ago in the beginning of the controversy, the question was whether man in all parts of the Republic should be allowed to speak, value freedom of speech; not much speech, but freedom of speech.

Whilst I demanded no large share of the popular attention for myself, yet I insisted that they that love speaking should be allowed to do it. That was denied, not only in the South, but in many districts in the North. At that time it was insisted not only that men should speak as they pleased, and for themselves, but men should work for themselves, and own themselves. (Great cheering.) I believed that while every man should be allowed to speak freely and for themselves, that every man should be allowed to own himself, and he should be allowed to own not only himself, but his own wife and his own children. (Applause.) We submitted that question to the arbitrament of the battle field, and it has been vindicated; and not only was that great question determined, and it was also settled as conclusively as any question could be settled, that hereafter men should not only be free in their own persons, but they should be alike free, alike equal everywhere in this great republic. That was settled.

Gen. Palmer went on to say in substance: And the mission of the Republican party is not to discuss theories, but to give positive effect to the great doctrines established on the battle field; doctrines which have been established, not for the North, not for the South, but for all sections; not for white men, nor for red men, nor for black men, but for all men.

Six months ago, who supposed that any obstacle remained to the enforcement of the popular will. We triumphed in 1864, during the dark period of war, in the election of Abraham Lincoln; we triumphed again in 1868, when Andrew Johnson appealed from Congress to the people; and the people everywhere signified that the doctrines of the Republican party were the doctrines of the American people. There was then but one thing in the pathway of people—in 1864, by a singular blunder, which seemed like a visitation of Providence—that was, the election of Andrew Johnson. It was certainly the most like a punishment inflicted for national sins than anything else that had happened to our nation, the war alone excepted (applause.) No curse could well be heavier, and the people had been heartily praying to have the curse removed (great applause.) There was but one way in which this could be legitimately accomplished, and that was by impeachment (applause.) That was tried and has failed. We all deplore the unhappy result. The removal of Andrew Johnson had been imperatively demanded by the national safety. He would not view the subject from a judicial, or political point of view—he would treat it from a common sense point of view. Andrew Johnson stood in the way of the peace of the country and he ought to be removed. (Great applause.)

Impeachment (applause) was the substitute of modern civilization for old-fashioned decapitation. In old times, when a ruler stood in the way of the people, his head would be taken off. Nice legal questions, borrowed from police courts, demanded that this obstruction ought to be taken away, and it ought to have been done. There remained but one remedy. There was one tribunal that could not be corrupted. They proposed at this Convention not to indict men but to submit these great questions to the people for their decision. They expected to summon the man who had stood by the party in their darkest hour and put him at the head of the country, and to summon the men who marched from Atlanta to the sea, and all the host of the army of freedom to rally around their great Captain and to sustain the flag in their might.

He hoped that they would have a clear, unmistakable platform; let there be a clean fight on the questions, and let them be settled. He begged them not to make a continual offer for the assassination of Grant, who would shortly be the President, but make a man Vice President whom the rebels would not prefer to Grant. If Abraham Lincoln were living he would be glad to extend the hand of friendship to that true and tried man, Grant. (Applause.)

Let them put no man in the chair who would not stand the severest test.

General Palmer closed, amid tremendous applause, many of the audience rising and cheering loudly.

Speech of General Carl Schurz.

GENTLEMEN OF THE CONVENTION: It is difficult for me to express how highly I appreciate the honor you have conferred upon me by this nomination. You will permit me to offer you my sincerest thanks.

This is the fourth National Convention of the Republican party. The short career of that party has been marked by events to which coming generations will point with particular admiration and gratitude. The Republican party was born a giant. (Applause.) In its very infancy it grappled with the prejudice of race, which, until then, seemed to be omnipotent with the masses of the American people. Our second onset overthrew it, and carried the immortal Abraham Lincoln into the Executive Chair, of this Republic—(great applause)—as the great champion of the anti-slavery cause.

Then came the slaveholders' rebellion, and, under Republican leadership, the loyal people of this country displayed a noble heroism and self-sacrificing devotion and perseverance under obstacles and defeat. It may well serve as a glorious example to all nations of the earth. [Applause.]

The result of the struggle corresponds with the great effort, and the life of the nation has been saved, and the dark blot of slavery has been wiped from our national escutcheon. (Applause.) Four millions of bondmen have been raised from the dust and from their ancient degradation; and this day those States, the peculiar condition of which was but recently a disgrace to the American name, return to us under the national banner, which, now at least, is to them what it ought ever to have been—the great emblem of impartial justice, of universal liberty, and of equal rights.

All these things have been accomplished under Republican auspices, and without indulging in vain self-glorification, it may be truly said that the history of the Republican party is closely identified with the noblest achievements of this country. (Applause.)

There are but two problems equally great, ever before us; we have to secure the results of the great struggle against the dangers of reaction; we have to adapt the laws and institutions of this country to the new order of things.

The solution of that problem will require no less enthusiasm, no less devotion, no less perseverance, than the struggle which lies behind us.

It will require more. It will require that calm statesmanship which consists in a clear appreciation of the objects to be attained and a thorough knowledge of the means to be used to accomplish them.

When the Republican party was about to enter upon the creative part of its mission, it was by one of the most atrocious crimes ever recorded in history, deprived of the man whose highest virtue as a ruler, consisted in his always acting upon the nobler instincts of the popular heart. Abraham Lincoln was smote down in the fulness of his glory, and we are left now to measure the greatness of our loss by what he left behind him. (Laughter.)

Then began for us the time of disappointments and of unexpected trials. Our policy was thwarted by the very man who, in an unfortunate hour, we had put upon the road to power. The legislative and the executive departments of the Government were pitted against one another in a fierce struggle. New dangers were looming up where there ought to have been quiet and peaceable developement.

We have our hours of painful struggle, but what of that? Are we the men to be disturbed by the mere appearance of danger? Are not the principles which we advocate just as great as they ever were? Is not the necessity of their realization just as apparent as ever? Is not justice still justice, right still right, and truth still truth? Are we not defenders of justice, right and truth to-day, as we were yesterday? What, then, is there to frighten the most pusillanimous? I say, then, victory will be true to the Republican party as long as the Republican party is true to itself. (Cheers.)

What we have to do is clear; let us fix our eyes firmly upon the noble ends to be attained, and not permit our equanimity to be disturbed by an untoward accident. Let not the passions inflamed by the stinging disappointments of this hour, however keen our sense of wrong must be, carry us beyond the bounds of wisdom, and the bounds of self-respect. [Applause.] The things we have to accomplish are so great that whatever the provocation may be, we can certainly not afford to let personal resentments reduce us into compromising the high destinies of the Union. [Cheers.]

Whoever may be our friends, whoever may become our enemies, let us march on with the unflinching determination to perform the duties incumbent upon us, to secure justice to the Southern Union man who for the national cause imperiled his life and fortune, justice to the colored race, to whom we have promised liberty, justice to the national creditor, who staked his credit upon the success of the Government. [Applause.]

Let us faithfully strive to restore the honor of the Government, to crush corruption wherever we find it, inside of the party just as well as outside. And to place the public service of the country in the hands of honest, true, and capable men. Let us, with an unshaken purpose, work out the manifest logic of the results already gained for liberty and equal rights; let us fearlessly acknowledge that the career of the Republican party will not be ended till the great trusts proclaimed in the Declaration of Independence, in the fullest meaning of the term, have become a living reality. [Loud applause.]

Yes, let us be true to our history. Let us be true to ourselves and fear nothing. No step backward. Onward is the term of victory. Let us see again the banner of progress, of liberty, of equal rights, of national faith, nailed to the very top of the mast. [Cheers.] I say to you, I spurn the idea that the American people could ever so far forget themselves as to throw their destiny into the hands of men who yesterday strove to destroy the Republic, and who to-day stand ready to dishonor it.

SPEECH OF GOV. BROWN.

Mr. Brown—As I remarked before I left my seat, I was an original secessionist. I was born in the State of South Carolina, and grew up fully imbued with the doctrine of Calhoun, who was then in the full glow of his meridian. I early imbibed his "State Rights" doctrines, and I suppose that I as religiously believed that they were correct as you believe that your doctrines were correct. I believe that I had seen for eight years, before the unfortunate struggle we have just passed through, that the issues which disordered the North and the South must ultimately be settled by the sword. There was no common tribunal whose judgment we would respect. If the Supreme Court decided a question bearing upon this great issue, the party against whom this decision was made, refused to abide by it, because you regarded it as political. But I knew that the time must be when it must come. While Mr. Clay lived—that good man—that great pacificator—[cheers and great applause]—we were able to avert this issue. But Mr. Clay was called from his field of usefulness, and Mr. Webster died, and Mr. Calhoun slept with his fathers; and when the storm again arose there was no one who could pour oil upon the troubled waters and stop the deluge. Secession was the result! I went with it cordially, as a State Rights man, and I stood by it [cheers] as long as there was any chance to sustain it. When the President of the Confederate States abandoned the great "State Rights" doctrine that we commenced and were agreed upon, I differed from him. When he adopted his conscript measures, which gave the entire control of the whole army of the Confederate States and of every officer down to the lowest private in the army—an error, sir, you did not commit,—I took issue with him, but we went through the struggle—not to attempt now to review its history—but we of the South fell, and you of the great North were the conquerors; and I think I had sense enough at the end of the struggle to know when I was whipped. [Cheers.]

The President of the United States, after the surrender of Gen. Johnson, ordered my arrest and imprisonment. After my release, your courts were open, and I was left free to act. I felt then that the time had come when I should make my choice between this Government, and some other land and Government. I still love my own native land the best. [Cheers and cries of "Good!" "Good!" And with your construction of the constitution established by the sword, I still preferred the Government of the United States to any other recognized government. [Cheers.]

The natural inquiry then was, what is my interest, and what is my duty? I believed it was my interest, and my choice, to remain in the government. If I remain here, I must seek the amnesty of the government for the past, and I must ask its protection for the future. If it yielded me that I was in honor bound to return to my allegiance and make a good citizen if I could. [Cries of "Good," "Good," and cheers.] Hence I have advocated every measure from that time until this for reconstruction. When the President of the United States proposed his plan I advised our people to accept it, because we had fallen, and we had no other power to negotiate with but him. He did not call Congress together.—When Congress, which had legitimate control of the question (cheers and prolonged applause) proposed the Constitutional Amendment to the Southern States, I advised such friends as sought my opinion upon the question that it was better to accept it.

Then there was the Constitutional Amendment. There was but one issue in it, and that was the suffrage question, and that Congress left with the States to settle for themselves. If we voted the black race, we must count them in our representation; if we refuse to vote them we could not count them. That was right. (Cheers and great applause. Cries of "Right," "Right.") With reference to the Federal debt, there was no question there. There was but one other important question connected with it, and that was this provision that disqualified me from holding office. That was no living issue. I, and others like me, will soon pass from the stage, and if we did not, there are other and better men to take our places, therefore in my judgment we acted very injudiciously.—What next followed? The supplemental bill and the supplemental acts. I advised on the passage of the bill that we accept it. At that time it would have been easy for me. True, without vanity, I may say, I had some popularity in my State, and had been four times elected the Executive of my State. I might have retained and courted popularity, but duty directed to me a different course, and I did it, and I have received the hearty denunciation of my people, or a large proportion of them, for having done so.

I have been denounced as an enemy to my race, and a traitor to the cause that has wrought so much. I do not think so. I think my course more honorable than of the man who was a rebel and sought the same amnesty that the State received, and the same protection from the government that I receive, and then stays in its bosom ready to sting it when opportunity offers. ("Good," "good," and applause.) When I fought, I fought you openly and boldly. When I surrendered, surrendered in good faith. And when I took the oath, I took it with a purpose religiously to observe it. By my theory (and I had been taught that it was the true one) my primary allegiance was to the State. When I had formerly taken an oath to support the Constitution of the United States, I understood it to bind me only when my State remained in the Union; but if she withdrew (which I believed she had the right to do, for just cause, according to the necessity of the case), that she must be the judge. I did not feel that I had violated the oath when I went with my State, nor since that time. And the one which the President of the United States gave me was very different. He required me to take a very different oath. I was sworn to support, not only the constitution of the United States, but the Union of the States. (Applause.)—When I did that I abandoned the doctrine of secession; for I cannot support the Union of the States and encourage secession from the Union. The Virginia and Kentucky resolutions that included this doctrine, as I understood them, have always been the very platform upon which the democracy had stood. But when the platform was knocked from under my party, I had nothing left to take hold on. As I understood the doctrines of the Democracy, they were sovereignity and the rights of secession. The sword has established a different doctrine, and hence it is that I am no longer bound by party allegiance to the Democratic party.

The Hamiltonian and Websterian construction of the Constitution has been established by the sword. I have acquiesced in that, and as I find the Republican party standing on the platform to-day, that has been abandoned by the Democratic party, that naturally leads me into the Republican party. (Cheers.) I know this is a very unpopular doctrine in the South, but I believe it is the true doctrine.—But let me tell you, Mr. President and gentlemen, that there are many white men in the South—there are large numbers of original Democrats in the South—there are large numbers of original secessionists in the South who to-day stand as firm by the Republican party, and will support the great captain of the age—Gen. Grant.—(Great applause.) Our Democratic friends that have opposed negro suffrage and denounced it as an outrage upon manhood and upon society, and yet in the late elections there the negro who would vote the Democratic ticket was really a very respectable fellow! (Laughter.) And a white man who voted the Republican ticket was a scallawag and a traitor. (Cheers and laughter.) They tell us there "you establish negro supremacy in the South." Not so. Not so. While we grant to the colored people all their rights, civil and political, we do not expect them to be our masters. Much as you have seen in the papers on that subject, it is not so. In the State of Georgia, for instance, when those who are included within the Constitutional Amendment, and who will be voters, although they have no right to hold offices under our constitution, come to the ballot box, there are twenty thousand majority of white men there. We have the advantage of education. Tell me not, then, that the black people of Georgia can rule Georgia when they are twenty thousand in the minority, and we have all these advantages.—This is said with a view of prejudicing the Republican party North and South. It is not so in other States, even where the blacks are in the majority. If our white race act properly in this matter, there will be no difficulty of that sort. Just in conclusion let me say, while we have a hard fight to make in Georgia, if you will give us the fruits of the victory we have lately won in a desperate fight, we expect to carry Georgia for Gen. Grant. (Great applause.

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

FOR PRESIDENT,

Ulysses S. Grant

OF ILLINOIS.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,

SCHUYLER COLFAX

OF INDIANA.

AUSPICIOUS.

The omens for the election of Grant and Colfax are most auspicious. Never did candidates have a brighter prospect. From ocean to ocean, from the St. Lawrence to the Gulf, unanimity and enthusiasm prevails in the Republican party. Impeacher and anti-impeacher, radical and conservative, constitution and anti-constitution, suffrage and anti-suffrage, all shades of opinion, are for Grant and Colfax. The divisions in California are instantly healed. So in Louisiana and Virginia. The welkin already rings with the shouts of victory. Grant and Colfax will poll many Democratic votes. Gen. McClellan got 21 electoral votes. Doubtful if the Democratic nominee gets as many. The Democracy are hard up for a candidate. Gen. Dix is in his dotage. Gen. Hancock proved himself a perfect failure in Louisiana. He would make a poor showing. Pendleton, the repudiator, would not begin to carry the full party strength. All we need to carry Michigan by 30 to 40,000 majority is organization. Michigan must compete with Iowa to become the banner State of the West. The State Convention is called the 1st of July. Don't let us wait for the watchword from headquarters—"but move forward at once on the whole line."

"Rally around the flag, boys,
Rally once again."

IMPEACHMENT.

A singular fact connected with the vote is that out of forty-two Republican Senators, seven—just enough—not one too few or one too many to defeat impeachment—discovered that they had judicial consciences that required of them a vote in opposition to their Senatorial and political acts and utterances, while 35 Republicans and twelve Democrats were not aware of possessing such a conscience, but voted on the impeachment question consistent with their Senatorial and political course. Another fact, a little singular too, is that five of the seven Republicans voting against impeachment represented, or mis-represented, as the case may be, the more radical constituencies in this country.

COMING TO LIGHT.

The managers are bringing to light the corrupting influences used to defeat impeachment. Gen. Butler has presented a report praying Thurlow Weed chief manager. A man by the name of Wooley is kept in close confinement for contempt of court, refusing to testify. Telegraphic despatches were seized disclosing important information. It is difficult to unlock the whole affair. But one fact after another is leaking out implicating the Senators, and making a by no means enviable bed for them to live in.

TO YOUNG MEN.

Our candidates are young men. Gen. Grant 46, Schuyler Colfax 45. They are the young men's ticket. Young men let us gird on our strength. "Old men for council, young men for war." Organize at once in every school district and ward a young men's Grant Club. Strike while the iron is hot.

RATIFICATION MEETING.

Such a meeting will soon be called. The evening is not yet fixed upon. We all want to hear a report of the Chicago Convention from the Chairman of the Michigan delegation, our fellow citizen, Hon. S. M. Cutcheon.

Republican, General Grant. Democratic, general dismay.

GRANT AND COLFAX.

By no word, or sign, or act, has Gen. Grant sought the nomination for the Presidency. The people have sought and selected a candidate. No partizan or political machinery has been employed to secure his nomination. The voice of the people has spontaneously and unanimously proclaimed their preference. The Convention which has just closed its labors had no alternative. It merely recorded the expressed will of the people in formally nominating Gen. Grant. Since the days of Washington no man, unless it was the case with Gen. Jackson the second time he was nominated, has ever received the unanimous vote of any National Convention upon the first ballot, until to-day. The vote of the people will be as emphatic as the vote of the Convention was unanimous. It would be a work of supererogation to urge reasons why Gen. Grant sho'd be elected—why the action of the Convention was a wise one. The people rule. And there are no two opinions among the loyal men of the country as to the wisdom of this Choice.

Senyler Colfax of Indiana, is placed second on the ticket. From a poor printer, struggling upward always, pure as a man, unimpeachable as a patriot, wise and discreet as a statesman, lacking in no quality demanded of a man chosen to fill the place in the public service to which he has been successfully elected, it will be found that he will meet the expectations of the people who will elect him Vice President of the United States. He is as true, as faithful, as good, as honest, as clear-headed, and can comprehend the wishes and purposes of the people, and will meet their demands as surely as any man in the Republic. He has never been found wanting. He never will be. He has the hearts of the people to back him, and their hopes to stimulate him. He is incapable of treachery, and beyond the reach of corruption. He is a man of the people, and for the people; and the people of this country will vote for him.—N. Y. Tribune.

OUR FREEDMEN PREACHERS.

Address of Rev. J. D. Fulton, of Boston, President of National Theological Institute.

This occasion cannot fail of being memorable. The evangel born of the edict of emancipation calls us together. The duties growing out of the results of disenthrallment demand our notice. It is meet that the city bearing the name of Washington should furnish the birth-place, and that the monumental act in the life of Abraham Lincoln should supply the occasion which called into existence a movement destined to give character to a race debased by ignorance and down trodden by the iron heel of oppression. The National Theological Institute, formed to promote the education of freedmen preachers, is to the Christian Church what the Christian Commission was to the efforts of our "boys in blue."

Four millions of people have been disenthralled. They have confronted a new destiny, and stand upon the threshold of an unexplored future. A leadership they must have and will have. It was known that those who reached them first and won their love and confidence would be able to guide them. Hence leading and influential men comprehended thoroughly at an early day that the colored ministry must be reached and helped. These men of God among the ransomed ones of the South no sooner sang,

"The year of jubilee has come,"

than they inquired, not for a bullet, with which to protect, nor for a ballot, that they might promote, but for a spelling book and a Bible, that they might be fitted wisely to use liberty. From the rice swamp, from the jungle, from the coffle chain and the slave-pen, when there was no eye to pity and no arm to save, up above the clouds of darkness that shrouded their sky with gloom they felt that Jesus Christ had built for them a home, and they believed in Him as Redeemer and Emancipator. God's will was their law, the Bible their text book, Jesus Christ their Teacher.

—The Chicago Tribune has recently supported and defended the course of Senator Trumbull, and is flatly charged by some of its neighbors with the design of disrupting the Republican party, or, at any rate, of stabbing Grant in the back. On the 25th of February, this Chicago Tribune spoke, in its leading editorial article, in this style:

TOO LATE!

It is too late! The American people impeach you, Andrew Johnson, as a disturber of the national peace, the violator of national law, the stumbling block of national justice, and the organizer of national ruin. They demand that for these offenses against them, and against the human family, of which they are a part, you be branded as a betrayer of the people, stripped of the robes you have stained, and go forth solitary among mankind forever. For you there is no death-bed repentance! Your public life is without a redeeming feature. Wherever there has been an appearance of virtue, time has worn off the tarnish, and there, exposed to all the world, stands the unvarying record of the desperado and the demagogue. Your bad example has been borne too long already. It is time for you to be going, and go you must!

The Free Press calls the nomination of Schuyler Colfax 'the killing of Wade.' But it don't appear to be half as glad at "the killing of Wade" as it was expected to be. Indeed, it appears to be one of the chief mourners over that melancholy event. Probably, before the campaign is over, it will discover that Bluff Ben. isn't dead yet; or, at least, that, "being dead, he yet speaketh," from the stump.

An Eastern paper neatly puts Grant's name at the head of its columns, "U. S. Grant, of Appomattox."

By Ald. Gray:

Resolved, That the west sidewalk on Ballard street, between Cross street and Forest Avenue be graded as follows: commencing with the natural surface of the ground at the south line of Hudson's lots, thence to the north line of said lots, at which north line the earth to be graded to the depth of six inches. Thence to the north line of lots of S. K. McMath, where the grade shall have a depth of 18 inches, and thence with a true grade to north line of lots of Geo. Carr, and the road bed to be brought to the same grade, with slight elevation in center.

Ald. Stuck as a substitute submitted the following:

Resolved, That the sidewalk ordered laid on the west side of Ballard street from Cross street to Forest Avenue, and the laying of which was postponed to May 1st, be now enforced by the Marshal according to ordinance.—Substitute accepted and adopted.

By Ald. Gray and Stuck:

Resolved, That the Marshal be instructed forthwith to commence repairing sidewalks in such parts of the city as are mostly traveled, and continue to furnish material and repair, until all the walks in the city shall be in good repair, and that at each meeting of the Council, he make report of such work as shall have been completed with the proper persons, names chargeable with such expense, so that the same may be charged over to said persons according to law.—Lost.

By Ald. Gray:

Resolved, That the sidewalk ordered on the north side of Congress street west of Summit street and on the north side of Pearl street, between Normal and Summit streets, be built immediately; that the Marshal give the notice and cause the same to be done according to law.

On motion of Ald. Dwight, the same was amended to read "a notice of 30 days," in place of "the notice." Amendment accepted and adopted.

By Ald. Stuck:

Resolved, That the com. on Streets be requested to report a plan at the next meeting of the Council for working the streets, for the ensuing year as is provided by Ordinance No. 21.

Ald. Dwight moved to lay on the table, which motion was lost, and the question recurring on the original resolution, it was carried.

On motion adjourned till May 25th.

By Ald. Dwight:

Resolved, That the marshal be directed to notify property-owners between Cross and Ellis Sts., to pave their gutters within 30 days after notice.

Adopted.

On motion adjourned till Monday next.

J. WILLARD BABBITT, Clerk.

Comments of the New York Journals on the Republican Nominations.

Of the nominations made in Chicago the Herald says: Grant is stronger than his party, and Colfax is the most popular man of his party, and the Republican ticket is a strong one.

The Times says: The people have faith in Grant, and the selection of Colfax is eminently judicious.

The Tribune predicts Grant's election, and that the popular majorities will exceed those of Lincoln over McClellan. He will receive more votes from reconstructed rebel States than any other man in the country. Under the auspices of Grant and Colfax our country is destined to achieve speedy restoration to its former prosperity, and more than its former fraternity.

The Sun says: The Chicago ticket is a strong one, and will receive the enthusiastic support of the Republicans.

The Post eulogizes the ticket, and says the resolutions, whatever faults a minute criticism might detect in the language or in the form of some of them, are as a whole an explicit and satisfactory declaration of the general sense of justice as applied to the living questions of the day.

The Republican members of the Connecticut Legislature yesterday nominated ex-Gov. Wm. A. Buckingham for United States Senator, in the place of James Dixon, whose term expires in in March next. The vote stood: Buckingham, 61: Hawley, 59.

NEW ADVERTISMENTS.

THIS IS TO GIVE NOTICE that on SATURDAY the 30th day of MAY next, the Supervisors of the two judicial districts, comprising the city of Ypsilanti, will meet and be present at the office of J. Willard Babbitt, between the hours of 8 and 12 in the forenoon, and 1 and 5 in the afternoon, for the purpose of reviewing their assessments; any person considering himself aggrieved, on sufficient cause shown to the satisfaction of the Supervisors, the valuation of the assessment will be altered in such manner as may be just and equal.

Dated May 25th, 1868.

IN TRADE.

and selling every description of DRY AND FANCY GOODS, PLATED WARE, JEWELRY, WATCHES, SEWING MACHINES, &c., for the uniform price of

ONE DOLLAR.

We would impress upon our patrons that our stock is not composed of second-hand Goods or Pawnbrokers' unredeemed stock, but goods carefully selected direct from American and European Manufactories, the greater portion of which are

MANUFACTURED EXCLUSIVELY FOR US,

which fact enables us to offer our customers better Goods for the money than those who profess to be "Manufacturers' Agents," or than CAN BE OBTAINED IN ANY OTHER WAY.

The unparalleled increase of our business, has compelled us to remove to more spacious quarters; therefore have leased for a term of years, the elegant block, newly erected, at Nos. 98 and 100 Sumner Street. We are the first who have attempted to make a "Revolution in Trade," by enabling the public to procure goods in small quantities at manufacturers' prices, thus saving the consumer three large profits made in passing through the hands of the Commission Merchant, the Wholesaler, and Retailer.

Send Clubs of ten or more, with 10 cts, for each descriptive check, and the getter up of the club will receive a present worth $3 to $300, according to number sent.

☞SEND FOR OUR NEW CIRCULAR.

We have also made arrangements with the

GREAT ORIENTAL TEA CO.,

of Boston, so that we can furnish our customers with other Goods and their full line of TEAS at precisely the same terms to Agents as though dealing directly with the company, thus giving an opportunity of selecting from the various grades any quality they may desire. We also pay agents the same commissions as allowed by the company. Blank form of order, with prices list and "THE TEA CUP," sent to any address.

Celebrated Foot Doctor.

Alf. Willard, M. D., eradicates ingrowing and inverted nails, corns, bunions, and all other excresences, without pain or the slightest inconvenience. That he is no humbug is demonstrated by testimonials from our leading physicians, druggists, bankers, etc. Rooms at Follett House.

Chicago Republican.

Some of our subscribers want a Chicago paper. There is no paper, whether in a commercial point of view, editorial vivacity and strength, or local information, that exceeds the Chicago Republican. The Republicans of the North West are forsaking the Chicago Tribune as rapidly as the rats abandon a sinking ship. The Republican received 1200 new subscribers in a single day.

Anti-Tobacco Society.

The boys in our city have organized a "Pioneer Anti-Tobacco Club," already consisting of 35 members. President, W. Busby. Vice President, Fred. Smart. Secretary, F. Brinkerhoff. Treasurer, A. Calkins. Marshal, F. Edson. The membership increasing rapidly. The boys have debates, &c., using the Good Templar's Hall. We wish the boys success. We trust every boy in town will join the club. One of the prevailing evils of our time is the use of this nasty weed. All hail to all efforts to save our boys from forming the nauseating, miserable habit.

Ready for all Kinds of Job Work.

Our paper is printed this week on our Taylor Cylinder Press. As we come to understand the Press better the impression will improve. Mr. Heely, Superintendent of the Daily Post press room, came out and started us all right. He speaks in the highest terms of the Press. It is superior to those manufactured in New York city.—It is an improved cylinder press. With this and our improved Gordon card and circular press—hand press refitted, and new type, we are on hand for first class work of all kinds. The first floor is occupied for office and presses entirely—second floor job and news rooms, sending our forms down by means of a dummy.

The Washington Republican—so long the Johnson organ par exbellence—has come ont for Grant.

The stubbornest facts that the Copperheads have ever encountered are Grant and Col*fax.*—Chicago Journal.

A Democratic journal says that the results of the Chicago Convention augur well for the Democracy. Yes; that auger will bore a terrible hole right through the Democratic hopes.

SECRETARY STANTON very properly vacated the War Office after the impeachment vote. That important department of the Government is now under the vigorous management of the senile and silly ad interim Thomas.

SCUYLER COLFAX is a printer, regularly trained in the craft. He is the first printer ever nominated for so high an office as the Vice Presidency. In fact, he is the nonpareil of printers, the pearl of the craft, and a No. 1 diamond type of a man. He will make a capital Vice President, and although the noblest Roman of them all, the Italics will sustain him in an emphatic manner. His popularity is without a ‖, and will make the opposition see **.

There are, according to The World, eight Senators who "would far rather be sure of a million dollars in hand than to wait for the uncertainty of a $5,000 office by and by. Let us buy their votes at their own price." The frankness of the proposition is characteristic of Democratic tactics; it is the way they do in the City Hall and at Albany. The application of cash-in-hand to United States Senators is proof of the confidence and personal knowledge of The World that "every man has his price." At Albany the rates average from $100 a vote for raw Democrats to $10,000 for fishy Republicans; in the City Hall the quotations are nominal, there being no Republicans to bull the market. At Washington, as applied to Republicans only, The World is willing to "call" them at a million dollars a head. "Come, gentlemen, make your game!"

—A GLORIOUS INAUGURATION OF A GLORIOUS CAMPAIGN.—An eventful week in the history of Chicago closes with to-day. For the second time a great national gathering of the party of liberty and loyalty, in this city, has given their principles a standard-bearer in whose name is assured victory. There are many features about the occasion just closed that will cause it to be held in lasting memory among its class of gatherings. It was the first great gathering of the Republican party since the rebellion, and within its pale were gathered representatives from all the States in the Union. Its spirit was a promise and a happy augury of the future party of the country in whose success are to be wrought progress in all the best interests of humanity.

We have the Improved Gordon Press for Cards.

What hair restorative took the first premium of a silver medal at the New Hampshire State Fair over all competitors? "Barrett's."

"Healthy and Happy" are two words which contain a word of meaning. Health may be secured by the use of J. W. Poland's Humor Doctor.

Satisfaction warranted to everybody who uses "Barrett's Hair Restorative." All Druggists are instructed to comply with this guarantee.

"Fools admire, but men of sense approve," may truthfully be said of the estimation placed upon Dr. J. W. Poland's White Pine Compound. Read the advertisement.

Baldness, grayness, and other imperfections of the hair will be regarded as inexcusable after a trial of Mrs. S. A. Allen's Improved (new style) Hair Restorer or Dressing, (in one bottle. Every Druggist sells it. Price one dollar. 222-2w.

—More economical, remarkable certainty of prompt action, in fact, every good quality is guaranteed for Mrs. S. A. Allen's Improved [new style] Hair Restorer or Dressing, [in one bottle.] Every druggist sells it. Price One Dollar. 219-4w

—COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE will immediately relieve and permanently cure the most aggrayated case of Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Sour Stomach, Constipation, and all diseases of the stomach and bowels. Physicians, clergymen, and all who use it, join in unbounded praise of its great virtues. Sold by Druggists everywhere. Price $1. 217–1y

COE'S COUGH BALSAM, the great popular Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough and Consumption. In connection with the ordinary 4 oz. size, Coe's Cough Balsam is now put up in MAMMOTH FAMILY BOTTLES, giving twice the amount of medicine given by any others for $1. For sale by all druggists and dealers in medicines. No family should be over night without it in the house. 217–1y

A Rare Chance

A fine residence in a healthy, eligible and commanding part of the city FOR SALE. A good barn, fruit, well, cistern, first cellar, and one of the most convenient houses in the city. Also 3½ acres of land, east side of the city, within the corporation, equally divided by a fence. I will sell half or the whole at a fair price. A grand chance for speculation. Apply at the COMMERCIAL office. 215—tf.

"Spring it is cheery,
Winter is dreary,
Green leaves hang, but the brown must fly;
When he is shaken,
Lone and forsaken,
What can an old man do but die?"

Why, take Plantation Bitters, to be sure, and with them a new lease of life. The old are made young again, the middle-aged rejoice, and the young become doubly brilliant by using this splendid Tonic. Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Liver Complaint, Headache, Pains in the side, "Crick in the back," and all symptoms of Stomachic Derangement, yield at once to the health-giving influence of Plantation Bitters. They add strength to the system and buoyancy to the mind. 221–2w

WEIGHING ON THE FARM.—A half-bushel measure is considered indispensable by every farmer. He does not sell his potatoes or grain, guesing at the contents of the bin or the pile on the floor—it must be measured. With this instrument at hand, he may know just how much corn is fed to the hogs and poultry; how many oats to the horses; how much seed is sown upon the land, and many other points equally valuable to know. But a good weighing scale is possessed by comparatively few, although its use would in many ways be even more valuable than that of the half-bushel. For instance, in selling live stock, the weight is usually ESTIMATED by the drover or butcher buying at the farmer's door. Long practice enables the buyer to weigh them very correctly with the eye, and thus he has the inexperienced seller at an advantage, which he is not slow to use. A good Fairbank's standard platform scale would save its cost in a few such transactions.

The weight of wool, butter, and other farm products, should be ascertained at home, to prevent mistakes and dishonesty in weighing after the goods have been sent to market. The weight of grain per bushel, the gain of cattle under different systems of feeding, [exactly when an animal ceases to increase by feeding,] and many other important facts, can readily be determined by having a good scale. It should be part of the furniture of every farm. Fairbanks' scales have been named in this connection, as being entirely reliable, having been adopted as the standard in this and other countries.—The Cultivator and Country Gentleman.

MARRIED.

At the residence of Lee Yost, Esq., of this city, Wednesday afternoon, the 27th inst., by Rev. G. P. Tindall, Mr. ASAHEL C. DUNHAM, of Hudson, and Miss FLORA L. YOST, of Ypsilanti; also, Mr. WM. H. YOST, of Hudson, and Miss ADELIA M. DUNHAM, of this city. No cards.

The interest of this occasion was heightened by very happy circumstances—brother and sister married sister and brother, while the bridegrooms are equal partners in the same business firm.

May their happy circle, so fourfold and peculiarly complete, long remain unbroken; and may its sunshine be peculiarly exempt from shadow and shade.

Printers kindly remembered.

CURATIVE COUGH BALSAM,

Price 25, 50 and 75 Cts. per Bottle.

THE BEST, CHEAPEST AND MOST EFFECTUAL REMEDY FOR

COUGHS, COLDS, ETC.,

The World has ever Produced.

PURELY VEGETABLE,

Contains no Minerals or other Deleterious Drugs.

THE CURATIVE BALSAM is Warranted, if used according to Directions, to cure or relieve in all cases, Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, and all affections of the Throat and Lungs.

Madame ZADOC PORTER'S BALSAM is a purely Vegetable Expectorant, prepared with great care and scientific skill, from a combination of the best remedies the vegetable kingdom affords.

Its remedial quarities are based on its power to assist the healthy and vigorous circulation of the Blood through the Lungs

It enlivens the muscles and assists the skin to perform the duties of regulating the heat of the system, and in gently throwing off the waste substance from the surface of the body.

It loosens the phlegm, induces free spitting, and will be found VERY AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE. It is not a violent remedy, but emollient, warming, searching and effective; and can be taken by the oldest person or youngest child.

If you have a Cold, if ever so slight, do not fail to give the Balsam a trial, as the very low price at which it is sold brings it within the reach of every one, that they may always keep it convenient for use. The timely use of a 25 cent bottle will often prove it to be worth a hundred times its cost.

The 75 cent bottle is more profitable to the consumer, as it contains four times the quantity contained in the small bottle.

For a Cure of all Throat and Lung Diseases

Is a thin, transparent, oily fluid, extracted by chemical processes from purified juices of the Olive and Pine. The magnetic or concentrated curative power existing in Stafford's Olive Tar renders it an instantaneous and efficient Specific for

BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, ASTHMA, CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH, AND ALL FORMS OF CONSUMPTION, WHEN IT IS TAKEN, APPLIED, OR INHALED.

RHEUMATIC and NEURALGIC, or any other EXTERNAL PAINS cease when OLIVE TAR is applied.

The astonishing success which has attended the use of Olive Tar, when its healing qualities are brought in contact with the Throat and Bronchial Tubes, and all the air cells of the Lungs, unquestionably proves it to be a Specific for all Pulmonary Diseases.

Below are a few of the many distinguished gentlemen who use and recommend the Olive Tar:

CLEANSE THE BLOOD.

WITH corrupt, or tainted Blood, you are sick all over. It may burst out in Pimples or sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you listless, depressed and good for nothing. But you cannot have good health while your blood is impure. Ayer's Sarsaparilla purges out these impurities: it expels disease and restores health and stimulates the organs of life into vigorous action. Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurity of the blood, such as Scrofula, or King's Evil, Tumors, Ulcers, Sores Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Cancer or Cancerous Tumors, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases, such as Retention, Irregularity, Suppression, Whites, Sterility, also Syphilis or Venereal Diseases, Liver Complaints, and Heart Diseases. Try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and see for yourself the surprising activity with which it cleanses the blood and cures these disorders.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottle, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative ingredient whatever. Hence, bitter disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound "Sarsaparilla," and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. We think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the class of diseases it is intended to cure. We can assure the sick that we offer them the best alterative we know how to produce, and we have reason to believe it is by far the most effectual purifier of the blood yet discovered.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is so universally known to surpass every other medicine for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease, that it is useless here to recount the evidence of its virtues. The world knows them.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by all Druggists and dealers in medicine everywhere. Agents wanted.

THE GREAT NEW ENGLAND REMEDY!

DR. J. W. POLAND'S

WHITE PINE COMPOUND.

THE WHITE PINE COMPOUND CURES

Sore Throat, Colds, Coughs, Diphtheria, Bronchitis, Spitting of Blood, and Pulmonary Affections generally. It is a remarkable Remedy for Kidney Complaints, Diabetes, Difficulty of voiding Urine, Bleeding from the Kidneys, Bladder, and Gravel.

"It was early in the spring of 1855 that this Compound was originated. A member of my family was afflicted with an irritation of the throat, attended with a disagreeable cough. I had for some months previous thought that a preparation, having for its basis the inside bark of white pine, might be so compounded as to be very useful in the case of the throat and lungs. To test the value of it in the case alluded to, I compounded a small quantity of the medicine that I had been planning, and gave it in teaspoonful doses. The result was exceedingly gratifying. Within two days the irritation of the throat was removed, the cough subsided, and a speedy cure was effected. Soon after this I sent some to a lady in Londonderry, N. H., who had been suffering for some weeks from a bad cough, occasioned by a sudden cold, and had raised mucus streaked with blood. She soon found relief, and sent for more. She took about ten ounces of it, and got well. J. B. Clark, Esq., editor of the Manchester Daily Mirror, made a trial of the same preparation in the case of a severe cold, and was cured immediately. He was so highly pleased with the results, and so confident of success attending its sales if placed before the public, that he finally persuaded me to give it a name and send it abroad to benefit the suffering."

Testimonials.

A very large number of important testimonials have already been received from Physicians, Clergymen, Apothecaries, and, indeed, from all classes in society, speaking in the most flattering terms of the White Pine Compound.

Dr. NICHOLS, of Northfield, Vt., says:

"I find the White Pine Compound to be very efficacious not only in coughs and other pulmonic affections but also in affections of the kidneys, debility of the stomach, and other kindred organs."

Rev. J. K. CHASE, of Rumney, N. H., writes:

"I have for years regarded your White Pine Compound as an invaluable remedy. I can truly say that I regard it as even more efficacious and valuable than ever. I have just taken the Compound for a cold, and it works charmingly."

FROM JAMES J. HOYT.

BRADFORD, N. H., September, 1860.

DR. POLAND: In the Fall of 1857 I took a very violent cold, which brought on a very severe cough, pain in the side and lungs, and raising blood. I was also very badly afflicted with that troublesome disease—the Kidney Complaint. For the three years past I have been very much troubled with my throat and lungs, choking up and raising an immense sight, with a bad cough after raising blood. I felt that my time here must be short unless I soon got relief. This Spring, I was induced to try your White Pine Compound, though my faith in it was small. But to my astonishment, before I had taken two bottles my cough was better, the kidney trouble also, and I could rest nights without choking up and raising so much. I have taken nearly three bottles, and am feeling like a well man.

I would add that my father's family is inclined to consumption, my father, mother, and two sisters having died of it.

The White Pine Compound, advertised at length in our columns, is not only as to its name inviting, but is a highly approved medicine. Dr. J. W. Poland, the inventor, has the confidence of the many who know him, a confidence which he enjoyed while laboring usefully many years as a Baptist minister. His experience as a sufferer led him to make experiments which issued in his medical discovery.—Boston Watchman and Reflector.

A VALUABLE MEDICINE.—Dr. Poland's White Pine Compound, advertised in our columns, is a successful attempt to combine and apply the medicinal virtues of the White Pine bark. It has been thoroughly tested by people in this city and vicinity, and the proprietor has testimonials to its value from persons well known to our citizens. We recommend its trial in all those cases of disease to which it is adapted. It is for sale by all our druggists.—New York Independent.

HALL'S

Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer

Has stood the test of seven years trial by the public; and no preparation for the hair yet discovered will produce the same beneficial results. It is a new scientific discovery, combining the most powerful and restorative agents in the VEGETABLE KINGDOM. It restores GRAY HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL YOUTHFUL COLOR. It makes the scalp white and clean; cures dandruff and humors, and falling out of the hair; and will make it grow upon bald heads, except in very aged persons, as it furnishes the nutritive principle by which the hair is nourished and supported. It makes the hair moist, soft, and glossy, and is unsurpassed as a HAIR DRESSING. It is the cheapest preparation ever offered to the public, as one bottle will accomplish more and last longer than three bottles of any other preparation.

It is recommended and used by the First Medical Authority.

The wonderful results produced by our Sicilian Hair Renewer have induced many to manufacture preparations for the Hair, under various names; and in order to induce the trade and the public to purchase their compounds, they have resorted to falsehoods, by claiming they were former partners, or had some connection with our Mr. Hall, and their preparation was similar to ours. Do not be deceived by them! Purchase the original: it has never been equalled. Our Treatise on the Hair, with certificates, sent free by mail. See that each bottle has our private Revenue Stamp over the top of the bottle. All others are imitations.

Great United States Tea Warehouse

OF

T. Y. KELLEY & CO.,

30 VESEY STREET, N. Y.

Are now supplying families throughout the United States with Teas, through the system of clubs and their regular appointed agents, at a slight advance on cargo prices, and guaranteeing their Teas to be pure and fresh, and also to give entire satisfaction, or they can be returned and the money refunded.

The advantage of buying Teas from our Warehouse is: you save the various profits of Speculators, Brokers, Wholesale Tea Merchants, Jobbers, Wholesale Grocers and Retailers, which in the aggregate, amount to from 50 cents to $1.00 per pound, and also are sure of getting the same quality and standard every time.

Our standard goods all bear our Trade Mark on the bags, and no others are genuine. Parties will please bear this mind, as our great success has induced some unprincipled parties in New York, Boston, and other places to imitate our style of putting up good as near as they dare to—to entrap the unwary.

PRICE LIST.

OOLONG, [Black] 60, 70, 80, 90, $1.00 per lb., Best.
MIXED, [Green and Black] 60, 70, 80, 90 $1.00 per lb., Best.
YOUNG HYSON, [Green] 60, 70, 80, 90 $1.00, $1.10, $125 per lb., Best.
IMPERIAL, [Green] 90, $1.00, $1.25.
ENG. BREAKFAST, [Black] 70, 80, 90 $1.00, $1.10, $1.20, Best.
JAPAN, 90, $1.00, $1,25 per lb.
GUNPOWDER, $1.25, $1.50 per lb.

We are Sole Importers of the famous

Shantung Moyune Young Hyson and Kiangsi Oolong Teas.

These Teas take their name from the districts in which they are grown, and being the finest productions of China, are used almost exclusively by the Imperial Court and High State Officers. They are put up in the unique and beautiful style of the Chinese in one pound packages, and we will sell them in the original packages at cargo prices; the Hyson at $1.60; the Oolong at $1.30. We imported the first invoice that has reached this country and have effected arrangements through out agents in China to receive them regular hereafter.

FANCY BRANDS.

Having had many calls from our trade for a fancy brand of Oolong and Young Hyson Teas, we have been induced to put up in one pound sealed packages a fancy flavored NING YONG OOLONG and NANKIN MOYUNE YOUNG HYSON, which we are offering at $1.25 per pound for Oolong and $1.50 for Young Hyson. The only advantage these Teas possess over our regular styles is the fancy flavor.

A NOVELTY IN TEAS.

Teas sixty days from Japan.

We are now receiving Uncolored Japan Teas by way of Pacific Mail Steam Ship Co.'s new route, direct from Yokakoma via San Francisco. Put up for us in Japan in one pound papers. The usual time allowed for a cargo of Teas from Japan is one year and a half, but American enterprise has enabled us to offer to our customers, Japan Teas as fresh as the natives themselves can procure them. Owing to the heavy freights, we are obliged to charge $1.40 per pound.

GROUND COFFEES.

PURE RIO, 20, 25 and 30 cents per pound.
BEST OLD GOVERNMENT JAVA, 40 cents per pound.
ROYAL CLUB—Extra fine—35 cents.

In order to meet the demands of the people of Ypsilanti and vicinity we have appointed Smith Bros agents for the sale of our Teas and Coffees. All goods are put up by ourselves in one pound packages at our Warehouse in New York and retailed at Ypsilanti by Smith Bros. at a small advance of 5 cents a pound over our New York prices. This brings our goods at the prices they can be purchased over our counters, with the freight added. We solicit a fair and thorough trial.

SLEEPING AND WAKING.

My wife had left her home to seek
The glow I worshiped in her cheek,
Like Persian old; my skin had paled;—
A letter every day I mail'd,
And often said in cheerful vein,
"The baby sleeps all night again."

All hallow'd by her tears and prayers
He staid with me, it lessn'd cares,
If he, the nestling, slept, I knew
My dove would slumber sweetly too;
And so I wrote her now and then,
"The baby slept all night again."

One morn he languished by my side,
Death-sick, and with the day he died,
And day with him. It was my will
That she I loved be happy still,
So wrote I in my wonted strain,
"The baby slept all night again."

But when, in turn, she fondly wrote,
Her pet names using in her note,
With artless talk about the bed
Of him who slept so cold and dead
I sat the bitter truth to pen,
"He sleeps to wake no more again."

And when upon my breast she lay,
And sobbed her precious bloom away,
And grief met grief, while of the dead
We thought, within his narrow bed,
I said, and saw it ease her pain,
"He sleeps to wake no more again."

NOMINATION OF GRANT.

Gen. Logan's Speech and some of the responses of Chairman's of Delegations.

Mr. Logan—Then, sir, in the name of the loyal citizens, soldiers and sailors of this great Republic of the United States of America; in the name of loyalty liberty, humanity, justice; in the name of the National Union Republican party, I nominate as a candidate for the Chief Magistrate of this nation, Ulysses S. Grant. [The greatest enthusiasm prevailed upon the nomination of Gen. Grant; the mass rose to their feet and gave three rousing cheers for the General; handkerchiefs were waved and the band played "Hail to the Chief."]

California—We come here six thousand miles to cast our vote for General Grant. [Cheers].

Colorado—The Rocky Mountains of Colorado say 6 votes for Grant.

Connecticut—"Unconditionly surrenders" her 12 votes to Grant.

Florida, the land of flowers, gives 6 votes for Grant.

Georgia cast her vote through Gov. Brown, who said the Republicans of Georgia, many of whom were original seccessionists, recognizing the wisdom of the maxim, "Enemies in war, in peace friends," and heartily desiring to speed the restoration of the Union, harmony and peace, and good government, instruct me, through their representatives here, to cast 18 votes for Gen. Grant.

Iowa gives 16 votes for Grant, and promises to back it up with 40,000 majority. [Cheers.]

Kansas, the John Brown State, gives 6 votes for Grant.

Louisiana gives 14 for Grant, and we propose to fight it out on this line if it takes all summer. [Applause.]

Maryland, "My Maryland," with our great captain, will crush treason in the Cabinet as he crushed it in the field. Maryland gives 14 votes for Grant. [Applause.]

Michigan, following the State of Massachusetts, gives 16 votes for Grant.

Minnesota, the North Star State, gives all she has, 8 votes, to Grant.

Mississippi—The home of Jeff Davis, repudiates the traitor, and offers her 14 votes for Grant.

Missouri—Was directed, under instruction of the State Convention, to vote for Grant on a radical platform; the platform is radical, and we have confidence that Grant will carry out its principles; Missouri gives Grant 22 votes.

Montana—The mountains of Montana, whence flow the waters of the Columbia, and Mississppi, are vocal with the name of Grant, to whom she gives 2 votes. [Laughter.]

Nebraska—The last State admitted to the Union, and first to adopt impartial suffrage, gives 6 votes for Grant.

Nevada—The silver State, has only 6 votes, but proposes to give 6 more next fall to Grant.

New Jersey, her delegation instructed by her convention, which spoke the voice of every man of the Republican party within her borders, deliver their 14 votes for Grant, not only a victorious soldier, but conspicuous for the calmness of his judgment, the sincerity of his patriotism, and his personal honesty.

North Carolina—Known as the land of the tar hills [great laughter] gives 18 votes for Grant, and will give 36,000 votes for him, all of which will stick. [Applause.]

Ohio has the honor of being the mother of our great leader; Ohio proposes under this captain that never knew defeat to fight it out through the same, and in the autumn when great victory will be secured. Ohio casts 42 votes for Grant.

Rhode Island, "Little Rhody," small in stature, but great in patriotic impulses, gives 8 votes for Grant, and wishes she had more. [Applause.]

South Carolina, the birthplace and home of Calhoun, and the doctrine of State rights, the first to withdraw herself from the Union, directs her representatives sent here by a majority of forty-three thousand four hundred and seventy. [Applause.] Returning as we do the counsels of those who desired only to preserve the Union arm in arm and heart to heart with Massachusetts [applause] gives her 12 votes for Grant. [Immense applause.]

Tennessee, being one of the Southern States that was forced into rebellion, being the first to reconstruct and be readmitted into the Union, and today being in the enjoyment of the most liberal Republican government in the United States casts 20 votes for Grant.

John R. Clay, a colored delegate at Chicago, from New Orleans, is worth a half million of dollars.

Personnel of the Convention.

The members of the Republican Convention, now in session here, are in general an unusually fine looking body. There is an air of business, earnestness and experience about them which commands the involuntary respect of spectators. There are very few young men in the Convention, and the rather plentiful of gray hairs seems to predict that no undue haste will be allowed to usurp the place of just deliberation in their counsels.

Gov. Hamilton, of Texas, looks like a man of about fifty-five years of age, well formed, and about six feet in height. He wears long hair and beard, both streaked with gray, and has a general expression of gruff decision, the natural result of the course of life a Union man has had to lead in Texas.

Gov. Hawley, of Connecticut, is a man of medium height and a dignified personal bearing, which peculiarly fits him for the place of President of the Convention, even though his public services had not been so important as they have been. He wears a full beard closely cut, and has a clear, pleasant voice, which is always listened to with respectful attention.

Gov. Brown, of Georgia, is a tall, spare man, and stoops slightly. He has a high forehead and deeply set eyes. His face is cleanly shaven, except a small tuft of beard under the chin. He speaks deliberately, but not with hesitation, and force is added to his remarks by earnestness of tone and gesture.

Gen. Cochrane, of New York, is a man of good size, robust frame, but gray-haired and looking prematurely old. He is a good speaker, and almost always imbues an audience with his own enthusiasm.

Gen. Van Zandt, of Rhode Island, is one of the finest appearing men in the Convention; of commanding figure, noble features, and pleasing tone in address. His full beard and mustache, are, like his hair, touched with gray.

Carl Schurz, of Missouri, a tall, slender, fair haired man, with spectacled eyes, seems to have lost some of the fire that distinguished his speaking eight years ago, but is still earnest, logical and forcible.

W. P. Kellogg, of Louisiana, attracts more admiration from the ladies, perhaps, than any other of the delegates, and deservedly, if a handsome face ever deserves admiration. His only formidable rival in their esteem is Gen. D. E. Sickles, of New York, whose former facial attractions have given place to a care-worn look, but whose gallantry and wounds have given him an additional interest in the regards of all.

Lyman Tremaine, of New York, is a man of heavy form and quiet manner, but impressive in his speech.

John A. Logan, of this State, is familiar to most Illinoisians, and his black hair, eyes, and mustache, and dark face, are at all times conspicuous in the Convention.—Chicago Tribune.

Gov. Hawley's Speech.

GENTLEMEN OF THE CONVENTION: I tender you my most grateful thanks for the high honor you have conferred upon me. Deeply impressed by a sense of the responsibilities of the position, I earnestly solicit your indulgence and your aid. We come together charged with the momentous duty of selecting the chief rulers of the great nation which leads the world in promoting freedom and equal rights. The indications of your purposes and spirit already given assure us that you will maintain the noble character of the Republican party. We unavoidably recall the Convention of 1860, with its profound anxieties, its fresh, pure and glowing devotion to liberty, and its enthusiastic acceptance of the wager of battle tendered by slavery and secession. It now seems clear that God ruled our counsels. He made our declaration of principles bold, manly and sincere. He gave us Abraham Lincoln for President. May He send us like wisdom and success to-day.

We learned the first lesson, when we found that we must make all men free, and call all men to the battle-field. We learned the second lesson when we found that we must still move on and impartially give all men a share in the governments we were endeavoring to restore.

With a clear and fearless expression of the essential and important questions at issue, which the people well understand, and no ingenious device in words can obscure or avoid; passing by all personal and temporary controversies; working in perfect confidence, that the American people mean to do right and will do it in the end, we may feel sure of triumph. Every dollar of the debt must be paid, for the blood of the soldier is pledged that it shall be. In the fight of liberty, fraternity, equality against oppression, caste and aristocracy, we must and shall win. On the evening of that awful battle of the Wilderness, when the legions of the Union army fought in the wild woods and tangled thickets by faith and not by sight, it is said that some men asked Gen. Grant to step backward and reorganize, and he replied: "gentlemen, we have done very well; at half-past three in the morning we move forward."

The American Cooking Stove In Court.

At an adjourned term of the Circuit Court of the United States, for the Northern District of New York, in the second circuit held at the City Hall, in the city of Albany, the 28th day of January, in the year of our Lord 1868.

PRESENT:

The Honorable Nathan K. Hall, Judge.

J. H. Shear & J. Packard, vs. G. B. Bull & J. M. Rockwell, } In Equity.

It is further ordered, adjudged and decreed that a perpetual injunction be issued in this suit against the defendants, restraining them from further infringements of said Patent, No. 51,406, dated Dec. 5th, 1865, for improvements in cooking stoves, pursuant to and in accordance with the prayer of the Bill of Complaint.

Signed A. A. BOYCE, Clerk.

The above suit was instituted for infringement of the Patent securing the manner of fitting the ash pan in the hearth of the American Cooking Stove, and for the combination of the bailed ash pan. We have repeatedly cautioned the public against selling or using stoves with these improvements not manufactured by us. All persons now selling or using stoves with these improvements in violation of the above injunction, without license from us, will be liable to fine and imprisonment.
